Chronicle of the Week's Events on 'Change.

A BRIEF REVIEW.

The events of the past week were of minor ime-indeed, they were decidedly of that humrder which waits upon a halting market. Like Humpty Dumpty, speculation has had a "great fail," and neither big nor little operators appear to have the inclination or power to set it up again. The uncertainty as to what Congress may do with the currency, the fear of another untempered biast by the shorn lambs and the general desize for nd offer nothing more notable than moderately teady prices and limited transactions. There was an exception, however, in the last hour or two of turday, when the market cast off its lethargy and brightened up into a state of great activity a smart rise of prices. Next week probably decide whether this movement is the forerunner of a new and permanent ad-vance, or only a flash in the pan. The prominent events of the week were the meetings of the Northtestern and Eric companies. The report of the for-ter company is remarkable for its excellence, showing its earnings to be beyond precedent, and nearly equal for the last six months to a whole year's divi-dend upon the capital stock. The Eric statement also exceeded expectation, although the reported surplus gains color from the fact that a large proportion of the bonded debt has no claim for interest on the company for this year. Among the trongest stocks on the list were the anthe grangers, Kansas and Texas, Union and the San Franciscos, Why coal carriers should remain so firm is . The managers of these corporations e at sixes and sevens as to whether to produce or not to produce, and coal itself is cheaper and more plentiful, in spite of the published schedules, which present it to be dearer and scarcer. Western was active, with large blocks of stock changing hands between prominent parties. The quarterly statement to be made on Wednesday is exted to show phenomenal carnings, and there will e sore disappointment if a recommendation is not made to restore the 2 per cent quarter year dividend, Central and Hudson sold off some 4 per cent from the highest price of the week. It is beginning to be understood now that the lessening of Mr. Vander-bilt's interest in the stock has injured its investment value. Money was easy during the week and the surplus reserve of the banks increased $403,150, thereby bringing the excess over legal demands up

Transactions at the Board during the week foot up 1,840,000 shares against 1,929,738 shares for the preceding week and 3,887,623 for the week ending No vember 22. The following table presents a bird's-

Bloom of the state HOW WAS HIS SKULL FRACTURED?

Patrolman Agnew, of the Tenth precinct, late on Saturday night, found a man about forty years old lying unconscious on the sidewalk at the corner of Hester and Essex streets. He took him, believing him to be drunk, to the Eldridge street station house, and from there he was removed to the Chambers Street Hospital, where he died yesterday morning. Deputy Coroner MacWhinnie made an autopsy yesterday afternoon and found that his skull had been fractured at the base.

On Saturday night rooms were on the third floor. On Saturday night she went to a theatre and on her return found her apartments disordered, and her pocketbook, containing $150, had been stolen from the bureau drawer. Her trunks, containing her diamonds, had been taken from thom. The robbery was reported to Superintendent Walling yesterday and a detective was detailed to search for the thieves. Of late several robberies have been reported from the Now York Hotel, and the police are inclined to think that they have been committed by a dishonest domestic.

A team of horses and a wagon, the property of James Thompson, of Jerome avenue and Fordham Landing road, was crossing the track of the Harlem Landing road, was crossing the track of the Harlem Raiiroad at Fordham at half-past seven o'clock yesterday morning in front of an incoming gravel train. At the blowing of the steam whistle the horses became unmanageable, and the driver, James Murray, had scarcely time to leap from his box before the train was upon him. The engine struck the team and truck. The horses were hurled from the track and killed and the wagon was smashed to atoms. The shock throw two of the cars from the track, and, before the train could be halted they colided with the switch house, completely demolishing it. The engine was but slightly damaged. There were on board the train at the time of the accident accenty laborers who were returning from White Plains, but they all managed to escape injury. Muray informed the police that there was no flagman at the crossing to warn him of the approaching train when he attempted to cross the track.

"Where is the greater portion of the property in arrears situated?"

"In the outlying wards. For instance, the assessments for the Sackett street and parallel boulevards swamped all the property in that section of the city, and the owners on that ground ceased paying taxes, the assessments alone aggregating over $1,000,000."

DIRADVANTAGES OF A FORCED RALE.

"Will a tax sale, forced as has been the custom, constitute a remedy for this state of things?"

"Cortainly not to any great extent. The probability is that the expense for a tax sale under the present law will be six or seven times the amount of collections, for the reason that purchasers will not be found who will buy the class of property principally offered for sale. The expense of sale is enormous. Section 3 of title 8 of the charter, while providing for the form of notices to be given, says they are "to be printed in the Corporation newspapers," without providing for the number of insertions or any further particulars. Section 18 of title 2 provides for four Corporation newspapers (all the papers there are in Brooklyn) and authorizes the Common Council to fix the compensation for publishing notices of tax and assessment sales. Some years ago they fixed the price at $1 a parcel for each newspaper, making $4 a lot for each year's taxes and assessments. The Corporation newspapers have deemed it a sufficient compliance with the charter to publish extra sheets, which has been done by three of the newspaper from the same stereotype plate, involving only the cost of one composition; and it has been their custom to distribute the sheets when called for at their respective newspaper offices. Sometimes, however, they have delivered them with the regular issues of their papers. While in the Office of Arrears I caused lists to be made for the year 1873, and found for that year al "How would you have accomplished a sale had the law passed?"

"How would you have accomplished a sale had the law passed?"
"If must be borne in mind that these 45,000 parcels in arrears do not represent that number or lots are nor that number of owners of property, as they, in every year's tax, make a parcel. The actual number of tots would not exceed twenty thousand and the number of delimquent owners would not exceed fifteen thousand. I proposed to print pamphiets similar to the sheets printed by the newspapers, and supply them at the Office of Arrears after inserting short notices of sale in the Corporation newspapers. In case it was deemed advisable to give further notice I proposed to send to the delinquents which I obtained, that I could print on semantes which I obtained, that I could print of 1,000 pamphiets and serve one on each of the delinquent owners at an expense not exceeding $3,000. It is proper to say that this 30,000 exceeds the entire circulation of the four Corporation newspapers, according to the most rehable information to be lad. There is another reason why a sale should not be ordered at the present time—that is, the fact that there is no provision by the Common Council now for the compensation for advertising these sales unless the old contract, which has expapers made a proposition to the Common Council now for the compensation for advertising these sales unless the old contract, which has expapers made a proposition to the Common Council now for the time when I was endeavoring to procure a proper law; but I think that was afterward withdrawn. I am surprised at Registrar O'Keede ordering a sale before the Common Council takes action in the matter, and before the Legislaturo—so soon to in the matter, and before the Legislaturo—so soon to in the matter, and before the Legislaturo—so soon to in the matter, and before the Legislaturo—so soon to in the matter, and before the Legislaturo—so soon to in the matter, and before the Legislaturo—so soon to in the matter, and before the Legislaturo—so soon to in the matter, and before the Legislaturo—so soon t
